New production plant

January 2025

NIGAY CHOOSES THE HAUTS-DE-FRANCE TO BUILD ITS THIRD PLANT DEDICATED TO THE PRODUCTION OF CARAMELS

To support its development and meet growing customer demand, Nigay launched an investment program in 2024 worth more than 30 million euros over 3 years to create its third production unit. Similar to its historic site at Feurs (42) and the plant in Nesle (80), this new unit will be dedicated to the manufacture of caramels for the food industry and artisans.

Nigay, a family-run business specialising in the manufacture of caramels in all forms, will be setting up in Saint-Quentin, in the Aisne department (02), to support its growth. The company already supplies more than 450 products through the world, three quarters of its sales coming from exports, and a team of more than 350 employees.

This new production site, in addition to those in Feurs and Nesle, will strengthen the company's position as one of the world's top 3 caramel producers.

This new production facility will combine:

- Price competitiveness and CSR policy, by being at the heart of the production of its main raw materials and the various river, sea, rail and motorway transport networks to optimise its carbon footprint.
- An approach based on excellence, to provide its customers with ever-better service, by integrating high-tech processes and equipment thanks to its know-how and Nigay expertise.

The Saint-Quentin plant will create from the beginning around thirty jobs, with a plan to increase the workforce over the coming years. The building work will start in the second half of 2025.

A great milestone in the company's 170th anniversary!
